Date of Issue: 6 June 2005

DIRECTOR GENERAL'S PUBLIC RULING

A Public Ruling is issued for the purpose of providing guidance for the public and officers of the Inland Revenue Board. It sets out the interpretation of the Director General of Inland Revenue in respect of the particular tax law, and the policy and procedure that are to be applied.

A Public Ruling may be withdrawn, either wholly or in part, by notice of withdrawal or by publication of a new ruling which is inconsistent with it.

Director General of Inland Revenue,
Malaysia

1. This Ruling explains:

- i. the deductions that are allowable against the total income of an individual in computing his chargeable income for a year of assessment; and
- ii. the income tax computation for an individual for a year of assessment.

2. The provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1967 (ITA) related to this Public Ruling are sections 2, 5, 6 to 6C, 7, 18, 45 to 51, 110, 132, 133, Schedule 1, Schedule 6 and Schedule 7 of the ITA.

3. The words used in this Ruling have the following meanings:

- 3.1 "Child" in relation to an individual or his wife, means a legitimate child or step-child or an adopted child of the individual or his wife.
- 3.2 "Step-child" in relation to an individual or his wife, means a son or daughter of one's husband or wife by a former marriage.
- 3.3 "Adopted child" in relation to an individual or his wife, means a child adopted by the individual or his wife under the Registration of Adoptions Act 1952 (Act 253) or in accordance with any law (not necessarily Malaysian law) where the adoption is recognised by the Director General.
- 3.4 "Individual" means a natural person.
- 3.5 "Wife" in relation to an individual, means a woman who (whether or not she has gone through any religious or other ceremony) is regarded by virtue of any law or custom as the wife of a man or as one of his wives.
- 3.6 "Wife who elects" in relation to an individual, means the wife who elects that her total income be aggregated with the total income of her husband and the assessment be made in his name.
- 3.7 "Total income" for a year of assessment is the aggregate income less business losses for the basis year, expenditure under Schedule 4, 4A and gifts of money, contributions in kind, manuscripts, artefacts and paintings under section 44 of the ITA.
- 3.8 "Disabled person" means any individual certified in writing by the Department of Social Welfare to be a disabled person.
- 3.9 "Medical practitioner" in relation to deductions on medical expenses for parents, means a medical practitioner (doctor) registered with the Malaysian Medical Council (MMC).
- 3.10 "Husband who elects" in relation of a wife, means the husband who elects that his total income be aggregated with the total income of his wife and the assessment be made in her name.

3.11 "Basis period" for a year of assessment for each source of income in relation to an individual is year ended 31 December.

3.12 "Year of assessment" means calendar year.

4. Allowable deductions

4.1 This Public Ruling is a continuation of the Public Ruling No.1/2005. Subsection 45(1) of the ITA states that the chargeable income of an individual is computed as follows:

	RM	RM
Total income		XX
Less: Deductions under section 45A ITA	XX
section 46 ITA	XX
section 46A ITA	XX
section 47 ITA	XX
section 48 ITA	XX
section 49 ITA	XX	XX
Chargeable income		XX

Detailed explanation of the above deductions can be obtained beginning from paragraph 6 of this Ruling.

4.2 Taxation of husband and wife - section 45 ITA

4.2.1 Under the ITA, an individual and his spouse are taxed as two separate individuals. As such, income from all sources that are earned by the wife will be assessed separately from the income of her husband. However, if a married couple finds it beneficial in terms of a lower tax liability to have their total income aggregated, the ITA allows the wife or the husband to elect to have their total income aggregated in a combined assessment subject to the conditions as stated in paragraphs 4.2.3 and 4.2.4 of this Public Ruling.

4.2.2 If a wife elects to have her total income aggregated with the total income of her husband, the assessment shall be made in the husband's name - (paragraph 45(2)(a) of the ITA). Similarly, if a husband elects to have his total income aggregated with the total income of his wife, the assessment shall be made in the wife's name - (paragraph 45(2)(b) of the ITA).

4.2.3 A wife can elect to have her total income aggregated with the total income of her husband, if all the following conditions are fulfilled:-

- a. the wife and the husband were living together in the basis year for a year of assessment and did not in that basis year cease to live together or to be husband and wife of each other;
 - b. the wife must have total income to be aggregated with the total income of the husband; and
 - c. if the wife is not a resident for the basis year for that year of assessment, she must be a Malaysian citizen.
- 4.2.4 A husband can elect to have his income aggregated with the income of his wife, if all the following conditions are fulfilled:-
- a. the husband and the wife were living together in the basis year for a year of assessment and did not in that basis year cease to live together or to be husband and wife of each other;
 - b. the husband must have total income to be aggregated with the total income of the wife;
 - c. if the husband is not a resident for the basis year for that year of assessment, he must be a Malaysian citizen;
 - d. the aggregation can be made with one wife only; and
 - e. the election is valid only if no other wife/wives of his elects to combine her total income with his total income.

Example 1

Lim and his wife, both resident in Malaysia were living together in the basis year 2004. They have income from the following sources for year ended 31.12.2004. Lim elects for combined assessment.

Income	Lim (RM)	Wife (RM)
Employment	12,000	48,000
Dividend (gross)	Nil	3,000
Rent	3,000	12,000

The computation of total income of the husband and wife for the year of assessment 2004 is:

Income	Combined assessment
	Lim (RM)	Wife (RM)
Employment	12,000	48,000
Dividend	Nil	3,000
Rent	3,000	12,000
Total income	15,000	63,000

The aggregate of the husband's and wife's total income is RM15,000 + RM63,000 = RM78,000 and is assessed in the wife's name.

Example 2

Suhaimi and his wife, Juriah, were resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2004. They have income from the following sources for the year ended 31.12.2004:

Income	Suhaimi (RM)	Juriah (RM)
Business (loss)	(15,000)	Nil
Employment	Nil	37,000
Rent	4,000	Nil

The computation of total income for the year of assessment 2004 for the purpose of aggregation is as follows:

Income	Suhaimi (RM)	Juriah (RM)
Statutory income from business	(loss 15,000) Nil	Nil
Statutory income from employment	Nil	37,000
Statutory income from rent	4,000	Nil
Aggregate income	4,000	37,000
Less: basis year loss	4,000	Nil
Total income	Nil (loss 11,000 c/f)	37,000

In this case, the aggregation of income of Suhaimi and Juriah is not allowed as Suhaimi has no total income to be aggregated with the total income of Juriah. Juriah is assessed separately in her own name. For Suhaimi, the loss (RM11,000) suffered by him is carried forward to the following year to be deducted from the business income only - (subsection 44(5) ITA).

Example 3

Khairul who is resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2004, has two wives, Asmah and Salmah. They are employed and have total income in the basis year 2004. Asmah makes an election in the Income Tax Form for the year of assessment 2004 that her income be aggregated with the income of her husband.

In this case, there are two assessments for the year of assessment 2004

- i. The assessment made in Khairul's name, together with his wife, Asmah; and*

ii. The assessment made separately in Salmah's name, as Khairul is eligible to elect for aggregation only with one wife.

4.2.5 The phrase "living together" means living together in intention. For example, a husband and a wife are treated as living together even though they are temporarily separated because one or the other is away on business or holiday. Usually a husband and wife are treated as living together unless they are separated -

- a. by a court order;
- b. by a deed of separation; or
- c. in such circumstances that the separation is likely to be permanent.

4.2.6 Where a husband and wife cease to live together as husband and wife due to any one of the three (3) circumstances mentioned in paragraph 4.2.5, the condition of "living together" for the purposes of aggregation of the total income of a husband with the total income of his wife is not fulfilled. Hence,

- i. the total income of the former wife cannot be aggregated with the total income of the former husband; and
- ii. the former wife is taxed as a "femme sole" (that is as an individual) having her own income tax file.

4.2.7 In the case where either the husband or the wife passed away in the basis year for a year of assessment, their income for the basis year is assessed separately. If the husband passed away, the wife will be taxed as a "femme sole". The husband will still be taxed on his income from the beginning of the basis year up to the date of his death in the name of the executor of the deceased person's estate (the husband). Similarly, in the case where the wife passed away, she will still be taxed on her income in the name of the executor of deceased persons's estate (the wife) from the beginning of the basis year up to the date of her death.

4.3 Procedure to elect for aggregation of income

4.3.1 When a husband and a wife obtain their Income Tax Forms for a year of assessment, it is necessary for both of them to decide on two important matters -

- i. Firstly, whether the husband and wife are to be assessed separately or to elect for combined assessment; and
- ii. Secondly, if they elect for combined assessment, who is going to make the election.

The election for combined assessment must be made at the time of submission of the Income Tax Form to LHDN, as follows:

- for business cases - before or on 30 June; and
- for cases other than business cases - before or on 30 April.

Example 4

Ong and his wife, both residents in Malaysia and were living together in the basis year 2004. They have income from the following sources for year ended 31.12.2004:

Income	Ong (RM)	Wife (RM)
Employment	36,000	18,000
Dividend (gross)	5,000	Nil
Rent	Nil	6,000

The total income for year of assessment 2004 is computed as follows:

Income	Ong (RM)	Wife (RM)
Employment	36,000	18,000
Dividend	5,000	Nil
Rent	Nil	6,000
Total income	41,000	24,000

In a normal situation, the total income for the year of assessment 2004 to be assessed in Ong's name is RM41,000 while the total income to be assessed in the name of his wife is RM24,000. However, if Ong or his wife elects for combined assessment, the total income to be assessed in the name of Ong's wife or in Ong's name is RM65,000 which is (RM41,000 + RM24,000).

- 4.3.2 Where the total income of the wife is aggregated with the total income of the husband, the wife shall be treated as having no chargeable income for that particular year of assessment. Similarly, where the total income of the husband is aggregated with the total income of the wife, the husband shall be treated as having no chargeable income for that particular year of assessment - (subsection 45(4) ITA).
- 4.3.3 Where the wife elects for combined assessment, the wife and the husband must fill in the relevant parts in their Income Tax Forms in order for the assessment to be made in the name of the husband.

For example, where the wife elects for combined assessment for year of assessment 2004, the following action must be taken -

- The wife must fill in the following parts in the Income Tax Form as follows:

Particulars	If Form BE	If Form B
--------------------	-------------------	------------------

Type of assessment	A7	A7
Assessed in the name of	A8	A8
Total income to be entered as "0"	C16	C32
Total income transferred to husband	C17a	C33a
Instalments/deductions transferred to husband	C17b	C33b

- II. The wife is not required to fill in the following parts in the Income Tax Form:

Particulars	If Form BE	If Form B
Part C:
Total income - self	C18a	C34a
Total income transferred from husband/wife	C18b	C34b
Total income	C18c	C34c
Reliefs and chargeable income	Part D	Part D
Tax payable	Part E	Part E
Summary of tax and payments	Part F	Part F

- III. The husband is required to fill in the parts of the Income Tax Form as follows:

Particulars	If Form BE	If Form B
Total income - self	C18a	C34a
Total income transferred from wife	C18b	C34b
Total income	C18c	C34c
Instalments/schedular tax deductions transferred from wife	F3	F3

5. Ascertainment of chargeable income

10. Bilateral credit - section 132 ITA

- 10.1 Bilateral credit can be claimed by an individual who is resident in Malaysia when the same income is taxed twice for the same year of assessment, that is that income is taxed in the country in which the income arises and again in the country in which the individual receiving the income is resident, and Malaysia has entered into double taxation agreement with that country.

10.2 The computation of this credit is as follows:

Malaysian tax payable before bilateral credit	X	$\frac{\text{Foreign income charged to tax twice}}{\text{Total income for the year of assessment}}$ or
Foreign tax charged in respect of the foreign income charged to tax twice whichever is the lower

11. Unilateral credit - section 133 ITA

11.1 Unilateral credit can be claimed by an individual whether or not he is resident in Malaysia when the same income is taxed twice for the same year of assessment, that is that income is taxed in the country in which the income arises and again in the country in which the individual received the income, and Malaysia has no double taxation agreement with that country.

11.2 The computation of this credit is as in paragraph 10.2 except that the credit allowed shall not exceed half the foreign tax payable on that income for that year.

12. Payment of husband/wife's tax in combined assessment

Where there is aggregation of the total income of the husband and the wife in a combined assessment, the individual in whose name the assessment is made is responsible to pay the tax. However, where necessary, the portion of tax applicable to either the wife's or the husband's income may be collected from either one of them in accordance with the following formula:

$$\text{Tax charged on the husband/wife} = \frac{\text{Total income of husband/wife}}{\text{Aggregate total income of husband/wife}} \times \text{Total tax charged on the husband/wife for the relevant year of assessment}$$

13. Proof of payment

Receipts and other supporting documents relating to claims made need not be submitted together with the Income Tax Forms. However, these receipts and documents should be kept in safe custody for a period of seven (7) years from the

APPENDIX A

DETERMINATION OF RESIDENCE STATUS

1. The residence status of an individual is determined by reference to the duration of stay of that individual in Malaysia for a basis year for a year of assessment. In certain situations, the duration of stay for the basis years preceding and basis years following a particular year of assessment has also to be taken into consideration.

2. There are 4 sets of circumstances in which an individual is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for a year of assessment. If in any particular basis year the individual does not fall within any of these sets of circumstances, then he is not resident for that basis year.
3. In calculating the number of days an individual is in Malaysia, any part of a day is counted as one full day.

Example 1

Woods arrived in Malaysia at 11.00 pm on 1.12.2004 and left Malaysia at 2.00 am on 11.12.2004.

Woods would have been in Malaysia for 11 days.

4. Circumstances determining residence status

There are 4 sets of circumstances which determine the residence status of an individual as provided for in section 7 of the ITA.

4.1 Paragraph 7(1)(a) ITA

- 4.1.1 If an individual is in Malaysia in that basis year for a period or periods amounting in all to 182 or more days, he is resident in Malaysia for that basis year.

Example 2

Augustin was in Malaysia from 1.3.2004 to 30.9.2004 (214 days).

Augustin is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2004.

- 4.1.2 The period in which the individual is in Malaysia does not have to be consecutive days.

Example 3

Angeline was in Malaysia for the following periods:

Period	Number of days	Total number of days
1.3.2004 to 30.6.2004	122 days)	= 183 days
1.8.2004 to 30.9.2004	61 days)

Angeline is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2004.

4.2 Paragraph 7(1)(b) ITA

4.2.1 If an individual is in Malaysia in a basis year for a period of less than 182 days but the period during which he is in Malaysia in that basis year is linked by or to:

- another period of 182 or more consecutive days in the basis year for the year of assessment preceding that particular year of assessment; or
- another period of 182 or more consecutive days in that basis year for the year of assessment immediately following that particular year of assessment;

therefore that individual is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for that year of assessment even though he is in Malaysia for a period of less than 182 days.

4.2.2 In calculating the period of 182 or more consecutive days, relaxation of the requirement is given where the period of "temporary absence" (period during which an individual is not in Malaysia) shall be taken to form part of the period:

- of less than 182 days; and/or
- 182 or more consecutive days, for the purpose of linking the two periods provided that the individual must be in Malaysia immediately prior to and after that "temporary absence".

"Temporary absences" allowed are -

- absence which is connected with the individual's service in Malaysia such as attending conferences or seminars or study abroad;
- absence owing to ill-health involving the individual or a member of his immediate family (immediate family means parent, spouse and children); and
- absence in respect of social visits not exceeding 14 days in the aggregate (social visits include any form of vacation outside Malaysia besides vacation to home country).

Example 4

Benson was in Malaysia and England for the following periods:

Year	Period of stay	Number of days
-------------	-----------------------	-----------------------

2004	15.05.2004 - 23.12.2004 (in Malaysia)	222
	24.12.2004 - 31.12.2004 (in England)	8 (social visit)
2005	01.01.2005 - 02.01.2005 (in England)	2 (social visit)
	03.01.2005 - 31.03.2005 (in Malaysia)	88

Benson left Malaysia on 1 April 2005.

Benson is resident for the year of assessment 2005 for the following reasons:

- i. Benson's absence in Malaysia on 31.12.2004 and 01.01.2005 is regarded as "temporary absence";*
- ii. He fulfills the requirement of "temporary absence" in respect of social visit not exceeding 14 days; and*
- iii. He was in Malaysia before and after his "temporary absence".*

Example 5

Kim arrived in Malaysia on 5 January 2004. Her employment contract in Malaysia was for one year ending on 4 January 2005. On 23 December 2004, Kim left for Seoul to visit her family and never returned to Malaysia after that.

Even though Kim was away from Malaysia on social visit for less than 14 days, that period is not regarded as "temporary absence" since she was not in Malaysia after her absence. Therefore, she is not resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2005.

Example 6

Using Example 5 above, Kim returned to Malaysia on 4 January 2005 before leaving for Seoul 2 days later.

The period between 23 December 2004 to 4 January 2005 (13 days) is regarded as "temporary absence" as Kim was present in Malaysia after her absence. She is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2005.

Example 7

Hughes has the following period of stay in Malaysia, Singapore and USA:

Year	Period of stay	Number of days
-------------	-----------------------	-----------------------

2004	01.12.2004 - 22.12.2004 (Malaysia)	22
	23.12.2004 - 28.12.2004 (Singapore)	6 (social visit)
	29.12.2004 - 29.12.2004 (Malaysia)	1
	30.12.2004 - 31.12.2004 (USA)	2 (social visit)
2005	01.01.2005 - 10.01.2005 (USA)	10 (social visit)
	11.01.2005 - 31.12.2005 (Malaysia)	355

Hughes is resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2004 as the period between 30 December 2004 to 10 January 2005 is considered as "temporary absence". The period between 23 to 28 December 2004 is not considered as part of the period that linked the two years.

Example 8

Takayama commenced employment on 10 September 2004 and has the following period of stay in Malaysia and Japan:

Year	Period of stay	Number of days
2004	10.09.2004 - 14.12.2004 (Malaysia)	96
	15.12.2004 - 31.12.2004 (Japan)	17 (social visit)
2005	01.01.2005 - 03.01.2005 (Japan)	3 (social visit)
	04.01.2005 - 31.12.2005	362

Takayama is not a resident for the basis year for the year of assessment 2004 as he was out of Malaysia for 20 days (exceeding the limit of 14 days).

If Takayama had left Malaysia on 17 December 2004 and returned to Malaysia on 1 January 2005, the period from 18 December 2004 to 31 December 2004 can be regarded as "temporary absence".

Takayama cannot leave Malaysia again for the purpose of social visit until after 1 July 2005 (that is after a period of at least 182 consecutive days) since the period of "temporary absence" has been used up in the year 2004.

If Takayama had left Malaysia for the purpose of social visit before 1 July 2005, then the period between 1 January 2005 to 1 July 2005 cannot be regarded as consecutive. In this case Takayama will not be resident in Malaysia for the basis year for the year of assessment 2004.

4.3 Paragraph 7(1)(c) ITA

- 4.3.1 If an individual is in Malaysia in a particular basis year for a period or periods amounting in all to 90 days or more (the days need not be consecutive days), he is resident in Malaysia for that particular year of assessment if in each of any three out of four immediately preceding basis years he was:

- i. resident in accordance with section 7 of the ITA; or
- ii. in Malaysia for a period or periods amounting in all to ninety days or more.

Example 9

Jemina has the following periods of stay in Malaysia:

Year	Period of stay	Number of days
2000	01.05.2000 - 15.08.2000	107
2001	01.05.2001 - 20.05.2001	20
2002	01.01.2002 - 30.09.2002	273
2003	01.03.2003 - 30.10.2003	245
2004	01.01.2004 - 20.02.2004 (51)
	01.04.2004 - 31.05.2004 (61)	= 112

The residence status of Jemina is as follows:

Basis year	Residence status	Paragraph
2000	Not resident	-
2001	Not resident	-
2002	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2003	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2004	Resident	7(1)(c) ITA

For the basis year 2004, Jemina is resident by virtue of paragraph 7(1)(c) as she -

- was in Malaysia for a period or periods amounting in all to 90 days or more in the basis year 2004 (112 days); and
- was resident (basis year 2002 and 2003) or was in Malaysia for 90 days or more in any three (basis year 2003, 2002 and 2000) out of four immediately preceding basis years.

Example 10

Watson has the following periods of stay in Malaysia:

Year	Period of stay in Malaysia	Number of days
2000	01.10.2000 - 15.10.2000	15
2001	01.03.2001 - 31.03.2001 (31)	= 92

	01.06.2001 - 30.06.2001 (61)
2002	01.04.2002 - 15.07.2002	106
2003	01.10.2003 - 31.12.2003	92
2004	01.08.2004 - 30.11.2004	122

The residence status of Watson is as follows:

Basis year	Residence status	Paragraph
2000	Not resident	-
2001	Not resident	-
2002	Not resident	-
2003	Not resident	-
2004	Resident	7(1)(c) ITA

For basis year 2004, Watson is resident by virtue of paragraph 7(1)(c) of the ITA as -

- he was in Malaysia for a period or periods amounting in all to 90 days or more (that is 122 days); and
- for three out of four immediately preceding basis years, he was in Malaysia for a period or periods amounting in all to 90 days or more (basis years 2001, 2002, 2003).

4.3.2 An individual need not be resident in Malaysia for all three or four immediately preceding basis years. It will suffice if he is resident for two of those basis years and present in Malaysia for 90 days or more in one of the other basis years.

Example 11

Peters has the following periods of stay in Malaysia:

Year	Period of stay in Malaysia	Number of days
2000	01.05.2000 - 20.05.2000	20
2001	01.01.2001 - 31.12.2001	365
2002	01.01.2002 - 21.01.2002	21
2003	01.06.2003 - 31.08.2003	91
2004	01.01.2004 - 30.04.2004	120

The residence status of Peters is as follows:

Basis year	Residence status	Paragraph
2000	Not resident	-
2001	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA

2002	Resident	7(1)(b) ITA
2003	Not resident	-
2004	Resident	7(1)(c) ITA

For the basis year 2004 Peters is resident by virtue of paragraph 7(1)(c) of the ITA as:

- he was in Malaysia for a period or periods amounting in all to 90 days or more in that basis year; and*
- In three out of four immediately preceding basis years he was resident (basis year 2002 and 2001) or was in Malaysia for 90 days or more (basis year 2003).*

4.4 Paragraph 7(1)(d) ITA

- 4.4.1 An individual is considered to be resident for a basis year if he is resident for the immediately following basis year and had been resident for the three immediately preceding basis years. Therefore, an individual can be resident by virtue of paragraph 7(1)(d) of the ITA even though he might never actually have been in Malaysia at all during that basis year.

Example 12

Nicholas has the following period of stay in Malaysia:

Year	Period of stay in Malaysia	Number of days
2000	11.10.2000 - 31.12.2000	82
2001	01.01.2001 - 31.12.2001	365
2002	01.01.2002 - 30.09.2002	273
2003	01.04.2003 - 04.04.2003	4
2004	01.04.2004 - 31.12.2004	275

The residence status of Nicholas is as follows:

Basis year	Residence status	Paragraph
2000	Resident	7(1)(b) ITA
2001	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2002	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2003	Resident	7(1)(d) ITA
2004	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA

Example 13

Stanley has the following periods of stay in Malaysia:

Year	Period of stay in Malaysia	Number of days
2000	01.01.2000 - 31.10.2000	304

2001	01.01.2001 - 31.12.2001	365
2002	01.01.2002 - 31.12.2002	21
2003	Was not in Malaysia
2004	15.05.2004 - 31.12.2004	206

The residence status of Stanley is as follows:

Basis year	Residence status	Paragraph
2000	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2001	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA
2002	Resident	7(1)(b) ITA
2003	Resident	7(1)(d) ITA
2004	Resident	7(1)(a) ITA

Even though Stanley was never actually in Malaysia for the basis year 2003, he is resident for that basis year as he -

- is resident for the basis year 2004, that is the following basis year; and*
- is resident for each of the three immediately preceding basis years that is basis year 2000, 2001 and 2002.*

APPENDIX B

DEDUCTION FOR INTEREST EXPENDED ON HOUSING LOAN

1. Qualifying conditions

An individual who is resident in Malaysia shall be allowed a deduction in respect of interest expended to finance the purchase of a residential property subject to the following conditions:

- i. The residential property is the first residential property purchased to be occupied as his place of residence.

“First residential property” includes a second residential property purchased following the disposal of a low cost property by him.

“Low cost property” means the only residential property owned and held for not less than 5 years and costing not more than RM42,000.

Example 1

Ali bought a low cost residential property costing RM35,000 on 2 January 1996 and later sold it on 2 March 2003. Subsequently, Ali bought another residential property at a cost of RM130,000 from a housing developer. The Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed on 1 July 2003. Ali was resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2003.

Ali qualifies to claim a deduction on interest expenditure on loan taken to finance the purchase of the second residential property since the low cost residential property previously owned by him had been sold.

- ii. The residential property has to be purchased from a housing developer or a statutory body or a co-operative society.

“Residential property” means a completed house, condominium unit, apartment or flat which had been built as a dwelling house.

“Housing developer” means a housing developer licensed under the Housing Development (Control and Licensing) Act 1966.

“Statutory body” means a body incorporated by a State or Federal law.

“Co-operative society” means a co-operative society registered or deemed to be registered under the Co-operative Societies Act 1993.

- iii. The purchase price of the residential property shall not be less than RM100,000 and not more than RM180,000.

- iv. The Sale and Purchase Agreement must be executed within the period 1 June 2003 to 31 May 2004.

Example 2

Bakar, resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2003, bought a residential property costing RM150,000 from a co-operative society. The Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed on 1 May 2003. The purchase of the house was financed by a housing loan. Bakar started paying interest on the loan taken from July 2003.

Bakar does not qualify for deduction on the interest expended since the Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed before 1 June 2003.

Example 3

Chai Yean, resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2003, bought a residential property costing RM170,000 from a housing developer. The Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed on 1 July 2003. The purchase of the house was financed by a housing loan. Chai Yean paid interest on the loan starting from 1 September 2003.

For the year of assessment 2003, Chai Yean qualifies to claim for deduction on the interest expended from the month of September to December 2003 since the Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed after 1 June 2003 but not later than 31 May 2004.

2. Amount of deduction

The amount of interest allowable as a deduction is as follows:

- i. RM5,000 for the year of assessment 2003;
- ii. RM3,000 for the year of assessment 2004; and
- iii. RM2,000 for the year of assessment 2005.

Example 4

Daniel, resident in Malaysia for the basis year 2003, bought a residential property costing RM140,000 on 15 June 2003 from Perbadanan Kemajuan Negeri Selangor (PKNS). The purchase of the house was financed by a housing loan. He paid interest amounting to RM3,500 on the loan from July to December 2003.

Daniel qualifies to claim deduction of the whole RM3,500 in the year of assessment 2003.

Example 5

Following from Example 4, Daniel paid interest amounting to RM6,000 in the year 2004 and RM5,500 in the year 2005.

Daniel qualifies to claim only RM3,000 for the year of assessment 2004 and RM2,000 in year of assessment 2005.

3. Claim by two or more individuals

Where two or more individuals are each entitled to claim deduction for a residential property and the total amount of interest expended by those individuals exceed the amount allowable in that year, the amount allowed to each individual for each year of assessment is determined as follows:

LEMBAGA HASIL DALAM NEGERI
MALAYSIA

$$\text{Amount of interest allowed for that relevant year} \times \frac{\text{Total interest expended by the individual in that relevant year}}{\text{Total interest expended by all such individuals in that relevant year}}$$

Example 6

Shakira and Amir shared the purchase of a completed residential property costing RM150,000 from a housing developer. The Sale and Purchase Agreement was signed on 31 July 2003. They took separate housing loans and paid interest on the loans respectively. The total interest expended and entitled to be claimed as a deduction by Shakira and Amir are as follows:

Year of assessment		Shakira (RM)	Amir (RM)	Total (RM)
2003	Expended	2,500	2,000	4,500
	Entitled to claim	2,500	2,000	4,500
2004	Expended	4,000	3,500	7,500
	Entitled to claim	$3,000 \times \frac{4,000}{7,500}$ = 1,600	$3,000 \times \frac{3,500}{7,500}$ = 1,400	3,000

If Shakira and Amir took up a single housing loan on their names (a single loan account on both names), each of them is also entitled to claim for a deduction on interest expended based on the amount of interest paid by them in accordance with the above formula.

4. Claim by husband or wife

Where a wife or husband elects for a combined assessment under subsection 45(2) of the ITA, the interest expended by the wife or the husband shall be deemed to have been expended by the husband or the wife who elects for combined assessment or the wife of the husband who elects for combined assessment.

Example 7

Suraya was resident in Malaysia for the basis years 2003 and 2004. She purchased a residential property costing RM150,000 from a housing developer on 1.10.2003 through a housing loan. She paid interest amounting to RM3,000 on the loan in year 2004. Suraya elects for a combined assessment in the name of her husband for the year of assessment 2004.

Interest of RM3,000 expended by Suraya for basis year 2004 is deemed expended by her husband and the husband is entitled to claim deduction on that interest for the year of assessment 2004.

5. Claim by husband or wife who has no total income

Where the wife or the husband has no total income, the interest expended by the wife or the husband shall be deemed to have been expended by the husband of that wife or the wife of that husband respectively.

Example 8

In the year 2004, Feizril and his wife, Shaliza each paid interest of RM1,500 on loan taken to finance the purchase of a residential property costing RM170,000 from a housing developer. Feizril has no total income for the basis year 2004.

The interest of RM1,500 paid by Feizril is deemed to be expended by his wife, Shaliza. In computing the chargeable income for the year of assessment 2004, Shaliza is entitled to claim a deduction totalling RM3,000 that is RM1,500 interest paid by her and RM1,500 interest paid by her husband.

6. Procedure for claim

The claim on the deduction on interest expended on housing loan can be made by filling in space D9, Income Tax Form B and BE.
