Date: 7 - 8 March 2013

Venue: Renaissance Hotel, Kuala Lumpur

Event Code: JV/004

Overview and Learning Objectives

This intermediate-level course provides an overview of the tax planning goals and objectives of a multinational group and an in-depth discussion on the use and taxation of holding companies. The course deals with specific tax planning goals and objectives and how such objectives can be achieved through the use of global holding company structures. The course addresses the tax aspects to be taken into account when establishing and dealing with holding companies, sets forth the criteria to be used in evaluating and selecting a holding company location, and offers an overview of the domestic legislation of countries that are often used as a location to establish holding companies.

The course will cover holding companies regimes in Hong Kong and Singapore, and provides an overview of holding companies regimes in Luxembourg, Mauritius, Netherlands as well as the use of Labuan. The course also examines the use of holding companies for financing and intellectual property management activities of multinational groups and focuses on the tax aspects to be taken into account by such group. Finally, a case study session will allow participants to apply the concepts discussed during the course.

This is an interactive course with a maximum of 50 participants. During the course, participants will be provided with a course binder containing documents relevant to the course.

Who should attend?

This course represents an ideal instrument for tax consultants and professionals, lawyers and accountants who wish to gain a complete overview of the taxation of holding companies in Malaysia, with an emphasis on certain jurisdictions, and to better understand how holding companies are utilized in a global planning context.

Course Level and Prerequisites

This is an intermediate level course. Participants should be familiar with the structure of tax treaties and their allocation rules in addition to the domestic law of Malaysia, in particular as it relates to cross-border situations.

Speaker's Profile

Bart Kosters is a Senior Principal Research Associate in IBFD's Tax Services Department. Until January 2010, he was in charge of the IBFD Topicals Knowledge Group and until August 2005 he was the Head of the IBFD Asia-Pacific Research Team. After obtaining his master's degree in Law from the State University of Leiden in 1988, Mr Kusters started working in the Dutch tax administration where he successfully completed the postgraduate programme for tax inspectors. From 1992 to 2001, he was a senior staff member at the Dutch Ministry of Finance where he was responsible for tax treaty negotiations and application as well as for drafting direct tax legislation. From 2006 to 2009, he was the Key Expert Taxation in the European Technical Assistance Programme for Vietnam (ETV2). Furthermore, he is a permanent contributor on international tax matters for a leading weekly tax magazine in the Netherlands and is a regular speaker at tax conferences.

Chris J. Finnerty is an International Tax Partner at Ernst & Young, United States (US). He was previously based in Shanghai, China and was responsible for the leadership of the International Tax Services group for Greater China serving multinationals investing into China, and the region, as well as Hong Kong and China based companies investing abroad. Mr Finnerty has extensive experience in international merger and acquisition and designing and implementing comprehensive integrated solutions that optimize the tax position of US multinationals. In that capacity, he has provided international tax consulting services to numerous global companies over the past 19 years and has significant experience in design, development, and implementation of global holding companies, tax efficient financing, cash repatriation and redeployment structures, and global income migration. He is a frequent speaker and lecturer at firm sponsored global events and various tax organizations internationally, including the Tax Executives Institute and the IBFD.

Julian Wong is a Partner in the International Tax Services group at Ernst & Young, Malaysia. He specializes in tax projects involving debt restructuring, supply chain planning, cross-border acquisitions and project management, and coordination of large scale restructuring and implementation projects. Mr Wong's focus is on assisting outbound clients from Malaysia and coordinating regional Asia-Pacific accounts. He holds a Bachelor of Commerce (Majoring in Accounting) and Laws (LL.B) from Monash University, Australia, and is also a member of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Australia.
