Introduction

Under the Self-Assessment System, tax audits are an important tool for the Inland Revenue Board to ensure taxpayers report tax liabilities in a fair and accurate manner. Tax payers face heavy penalties if they are found to have filed incorrect income tax returns. It is important for tax payers and tax agents to be fully aware of the legislative and other requirements pertaining to tax audits and investigations in order to avoid HEAVY PENALTIES.

Tax Audits

A tax audit is an examination of a taxpayer's business records and financial affairs to ascertain that the right amount of income should be declared and the right amount of tax should be calculated and paid are in accordance with tax laws and regulations. A fair, transparent and equitable tax administration system will enhance public confidence in the tax system. From the Malaysian Inland Revenue Board's (MIRB) perspective, compliance with tax laws must be strictly adhered to and tax offences such as non-compliance and tax evasion would be penalized in accordance with the provisions of the Income Tax Act 1967.

Tax audits are aimed at enhancing voluntary compliance with tax laws and regulations. Currently the tax authorities generally carry out desk audits. A taxpayer can be selected for an audit at any time. However, it does not necessarily mean that a taxpayer who is selected for an audit has committed an offence. The MIRB's audit framework is designed to ensure that tax audits are carried out in a fair, transparent and impartial manner. The framework outlines the rights and responsibilities of audit officers, taxpayers and tax agents in respect of a tax audit.

Objective of Tax Audits

The main objective of tax audits is to encourage voluntary compliance with the tax laws and regulations and to ensure that a higher tax compliance rate is achieved under the Self-Assessment System.
